Innovative Approach to Treating

Welcome to our Summer Newsletter!

THE GLENDON
ASSOCIATION

Dear Glendon Supporters,

I want to take this opportunity to thank you for your ongoing interest and support for the work we do at The Glendon Association. We see our newsletters as a real chance to fill you in on current and upcoming efforts and events that we believe are essential to our mission. This past quarter, our goal to make a difference by extending our outreach to national and international conferences and events as well as to our local community has been extremely rewarding. We feel fortunate to share these efforts with you and hope you will continue to be part of our summer activity, whether by attending a free or CE Webinar or joining us at APA 2011 Convention. You can keep up to speed on all Glendon and PsychAlive news by following us on Facebook and Twitter. On behalf of our whole team, I wish you a wonderful summer!

Sincerely,
Nina Firestone
Managing Director

Announcing a New Film on Assessing and Treating Violent Individuals

Glendon is pleased to announce that the release of part two of the documentary series Voices of Violence. Effective Treatments for Violent Individuals is now available to mental health professionals. The film integrates the narratives of violent individuals participating in two innovative treatment programs with interviews of therapists and experts in the field of violence. The result is an illuminating window into what can be accomplished when intervening with men whose crimes were based on both types of violence, reactive and predatory. The film features interviews with James Gilligan, Peter Fonagy, Felicity de Zuleta, Donald Meichenbaum, Robert Firestone, and Lisa Firestone who delineate the essential elements in conducting therapy with violent individuals. As the film ends, Dr. Gilligan calls attention to important changes in public policy and prison reform he believes are necessary to prevent future recurring cycles of violent crime in our country.

Glendon Continues to Offer Ongoing Training and Volunteer Outreach in the Local Community

Recently Lisa Firestone provided training at the Crisis Intervention Training for Law Enforcement and First Responders in Santa Barbara County. She offered two in-depth trainings on suicide prevention and on Psychological First Aid. This included the role of the "Santa Barbara Response Network" (SBRN) for which Lisa Firestone and Jina Carvalho are in key positions (training and public information).
